About the Care Quality Commission

We make sure health and social care services give people safe, kind and very good care.

We also want to help services get better.

We check services in England to make sure they meet the rules about how good a care service must be.

How we checked Mount Camphill

We visited Mount Camphill on 10 October 2013.

We talked with people who use the service.

We talked with staff.

We looked at people's care records.

We watched to see how staff treated people using the service.

We thought about what we learnt.

We decided what the people who run Mount Camphill were doing right and what they were not.

What we found out about Mount Camphill

What was good about Mount Camphill

Before getting care or treatment people were asked if they agreed to it first.

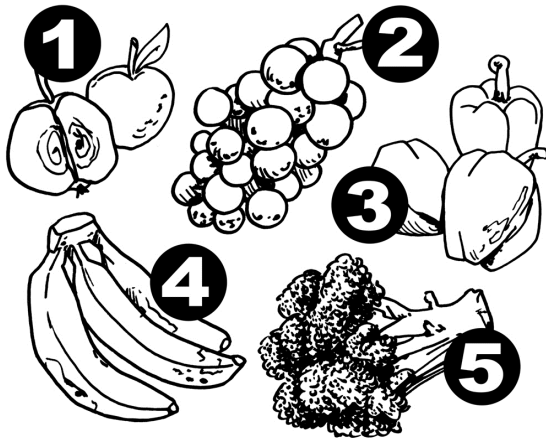

People's families took part in planning their care.

Care was planned and given in a way that made sure people were safe and well.

People's care plans and other records were up to date and person-centred.

There was a good system to check people had enough good food and drink.

People were supported to do as much for themselves as they could.

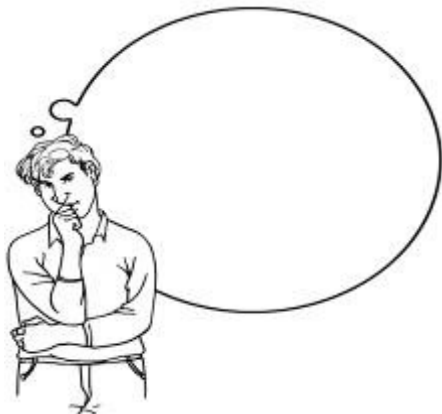

Medication was managed in the right way.

There were enough staff at Mount Camphill

They got training and support to make sure they met people's needs in the best way.

What happens next?

Mount Camphill was meeting all the rules which we checked.

We will go back to check this again in the future.
